JESS HALL

SHOT BY DOWELL

Shooting Occurred Saturday Afternoon—Hall Died Quickly. Dowell in Jail.

WAS HIS SON-IN-LAW

Hardinsburg, Aug. 18. (Special)—At about four o'clock on last Saturday afternoon Matt Dowell shot his son-in-law, Jess Hall, who soon died from the effects of the shot. The shooting occurred in about 50 feet of Dowell's house with no one near except Dowell's son. As soon as the shot was fired Dowell left for Hardinsburg, meeting near town Sheriff Milt Miller and Coroner Lee Bishop, who had started to the scene of the trouble. Dowell at once gave himself up and was brought to Hardinsburg and placed in jail. His examining trial was set for Thursday of this week. Mr. Dowell's son gave the alarm and soon thereafter Wm. Howard a neighbor, found Hall with life extinct. Dowell and Hall lived close together, and on sinking creek within two miles of Clifton Mills. Hall had been married to Dowell's daughter about one year. His home before marriage was at Olaton in Ohio county.

Fall Campaign.

Webster, Ky., Aug. 15, 1908.—The political parties are planning for an active and vigorous campaign. Their success in a large measure depends on it. Why may we not see Sunday School workers plan and execute as active and aggressive campaign as they?

We desire to hold one or more rallies in every district in the county. Will the district officers take notice and get busy? We also want to make a thorough house to house visitation. I feel sure it will pay a large dividend if earnestly and thoroughly done. I trust the Superintendent of visitation and the Superintendent of Superintendents will have every thing in readiness.

We have done fairly well thus far this year, as those who attended our county convention will testify. The convention was good. Had good reports from all the districts, the attendance large and the interest fine. Every speaker on the program was interesting and made interesting and profitable talks. I take this opportunity of thanking the workers of the county for their hearty co-operation in all our plans. My association with them has been exceedingly pleasant and especially has this been true with the three Secretaries I have had as district and county president I can not recall a single unpleasant incident. While these seven years have brought responsibilities and quite a good deal of work, they have been happy years, happy in the thought that we are engaged in one of the greatest works committed to mortal man. It should have more of our attention. Will not some one write it up through our county papers.

I have written quite often but so far as I know no one has read what I have written. I write not because I think I can do it interestingly, but for your president I want to call your attention to the work and its importance.

We hope to make the final report for this year the best we have ever made. T. B. Henderson.

Enjoyable Outing.

The excursion given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church on the steamer Gazelle and barge last Wednesday evening proved to be a most enjoyable affair. The boat was run as far down as Hawesville and "Cannelton, stopping at each place fifteen minutes.

A stringed band furnished music and the ladies served lunches and refreshments. The excursion was also a financial success, something over forty dollars being cleared.

What a misfortune it is that our educational advantages are not sufficiently good to keep our boys and girls among us until they have at least concluded their High School. This yearly exodus of the young life from our community is a great loss to our country.

Irvington is beautifully and conveniently situated with splendid railroad facilities and is an excellent community morally and socially. Let's all unite to make it a point where christian culture may be obtained so the home to which we will not pass up. By nothing helps in upbuilding more than good churches and good schools. The better and more of these we have the more people come to us as residents. Increased population of course increases business. Merchants don't have time to sit on goods boxes and discuss politics in a thriving town which is building up substantially.

TWO BENEFACTORS

ARE DEAD

Micajah Arms And William Henry

Roberts Were Two Prominent Men

DEATH MOURNED BY MANY

Hardinsburg, Aug. 18. (Special)—Micajah Arms, a prosperous farmer, who lived near Robbins' Schoolhouse, between Hardinsburg and Sinking Creek, died very suddenly Sunday.

Falling from his chair in which he had expressed himself as being comfortably seated, he died about 10 o'clock. In his usual health the day before, he had served on the coroner's jury on Saturday over the remains of Jess Hall who had been shot a few hours before.

Mr. Arms was a half brother of "Uncle Henry" Macy who he attended through much of the illness that cost "Uncle Henry's" life. He was aged about seventy, active, enterprising, relied upon by all who knew him, a benefactor to his neighborhood and a member of the Methodist church.

His remains were laid to rest in the Hensley burying ground on Monday afternoon. The surviving children are Clint, Nat, Micajah, Add, Austin, Miss Mary Maysey, Mrs. Rousseau Dowell, Miss Wm. Norton and Mrs. Mac Dowell.

Wm. H. Roberts Dead.

At 6:30 a. m. Saturday morning, August 18, William Henry H. Roberts, near Custer, breathed his last after an illness of several weeks. He was born near Bewleyville in 1841, and in Breckenridge county he spent his life, respected and honored by all who knew him.

While yet a young man he married Bettie Bruner, daughter of Jefferson Bruner, of Custer. Near her girlhood home the young couple established their new home, where by thrift, economy and industry they accumulated well of this world's goods, and beautified the surroundings into one of the prettiest country places in the county.

The wife and one child, Almida, now Mrs. Bennett, survive the husband and father.

An honest, Christian man is at rest, and sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends now mourn the loss of one whose life was a model worthy of imitation.

BIG DAY AT GUSTON

Members of Farmers Co-operative Insurance Co. Meet.

Company Makes Good Showing

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

Ang. 6 1908

The Planters Co-operative Insurance Company of Breckenridge and Meade counties met at Guston, Meade County, in yearly meeting on Aug. 6 1908 and elected J. J. Willet chairman of the meeting, the members being slow about getting there. Geo. W. Dodson, the secretary, gave a lengthy talk on the condition of company, and showed how near that all home insurance companies came near being legislated out from doing any insurance business in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, there being a bill introduced in the last Senate in the interest of the Eastern Companies and unanimously passed the Senate, but when it got to the lower house was defeated. He urged the farmers to be very careful who they voted for for their next Senators and Representatives as there would be plenty of "bodie" to buy the next set of lawmakers by the Eastern companies, as they have done so in every state where Mutuals have been organized or not only there but to elect the law makers. His talk was very plain on this point. He reported the proceedings of the state organization which was composed of delegates from 22 counties now doing business in the state and engaged under the laws of the state. They had a committee appointed to watch the next legislature and that said committee is to draft a bill in the interest of the Mutual Companies doing business in the State to come before the next State meeting and be by the delegates there approved or modified ready to present to our lawmakers.

Next was the report of the Secretary which was as follows: At the last yearly meeting which was held at Ekron, Meade county, Aug. 10, 1907, there was left in the office $11,100 over to the treasurer and the secretary had received 111 applications during the year and had received $224 application fees making $24.29 for which he had paid out as expenses for printing, postage, taking applications issuing policies and salaries of the office $11,100 over to the treasurer $24.29 leaving a balance of $10.26 in his hands. Next was the report of the treasurer to wit: On hand at the last yearly meeting at Ekron, 1907, $68. Paid out for the company since last report for losses and incidental expenses of the office $11,100 over to the treasurer $24.29 leaving a balance of $10.26 in his hands. There was a committee appointed to audit the above reports. Said committee were Dr. P. V. Foote, J. B. Smith and J. D. Jones, then adjourned for dinner.

After dinner the committee reported as follows: We, your committee, have examined the reports and find them correct.—Dr. P. V. Foote, Chairman.

Next was a committee of three appointed to select eleven directors to serve for the next year. N. Hicks, Charles Drury and N. B. Dowell reported the following names: Dr. P. V. Foote, W. S. Gregory, E. B. Oglesby, C. H. Drury, J. R. Rav, A. M. Haidin, J. W. Vessels, Geo. W. Dodson, J. T. Jones, N. Hicks and W. N. Hend. Said directors being elected by the members the seven directors then went to themselves and elected the following officers: President J. R. Ray; Vice-president, W. N. Hend; Treasurer, J. W. Vessels; Secretary, Geo. W. Dodson.

Purpose of next meeting, Rhodella, Meade county, and would at the time hold a regular farmers picnic, the proceeds of which is for the benefit of the Planters Co-operative Insurance Co. Everybody invited to come and spend the day with the good people of Rhodella.

W. S. Gregory, Clerk. Geo. W. Dodson, Sec'y.

Water Moorman, of the Planters Hall Stock Farm, was on Saturday's train with a carload of stock enroute to the Leitchfield Fair. His hog, sheep and cattle display will be very fine, the exhibit including some animals that never fail to draw a blue ribbon. Mr. Moorman's stock car was attended by Dill Kiper, his herdsman.

Their Acts, and They Are Impotent to Correct Them.

As I shall, in separate speeches, discuss the leading questions at issue, I shall at this time confine myself to the paramount question, and to the far-reaching purpose of our party, as that purpose is set forth in the platform.

Shall the People Rule?

Our platform declares that the over-tariff reform before the election; and the reduction promised after the election is so hedged about with qualifying phrases, that no one can estimate with accuracy the sum total of tariff reform to be expected in case of Republican success. If the past can be taken as a guide, the Republican party will be so obligated by campaign com-

I shall not embarrass him by asking him upon what he bases his hope of success; it is certainly not on any encouragement he has received from Republican leaders. It is sufficient to say that if his hopes were realized—if, in spite of the adverse action of his convention, he should succeed in securing the enactment of the very law which he favors, it would give but partial relief. He has read the Democratic platform; not only his language, but his Mule Mascot For Bryan.

Minnesota Fair Directors Send Best That Brays When the Music Plays

Minneapolis, July 31.—A mule answering to the name of Julia, has been shipped from this city to Lincoln to serve as a mascot for William Jennings Bryan. The animal is from Fink's trained animal show and was purchased by the directors of the Minnesota State Fair to be presented to the Commager.

The following telegram was sent to Mr. Bryan early today by B. F. Nelson, president of the State Fair board.

"The State Fair of Minnesota offers you as a campaign mascot one of Fink's trained mules. It is a beautiful colored male, perfectly gentle and warranted to kick the stuffing out of the Republican elephant."

Mr. Nelson today received the following reply from Mr. Bryan.

"I shall be pleased to accept the mule as a mascot. Send it on. Many thanks. Julia was named after the way to Nebraska this evening and is expected to be grazing on the Bryan farm within two days."

Julia has been trained to bray whenever she hears the strains of music. She also dances to music.

Bryan had been invited to attend the State Fair here in August, and upon his refusal the directors decided to present him with a mule, as they had planned to do when he should visit the fair.

Dr. Harold Beard Chosen.

A meeting of the creditors of the Rough River Cooperative company, a corporation of Livermore, McLean county, which was thrown into bankruptcy some time ago, was held on Tuesday at the law office of Ben D. Ringo, at which Mr. H. J. Beard was elected trustee. The trustee executed bond, through Sweeney Bros. & Co., with the American Surety Company as surety.—Owensboro Messenger.

Hints For Stock Owners.

It is sometimes hard to make good butter in the dog days but it is less difficult when all the rank and bitter weeds have been cut in the pasture, before the cows have a chance to eat them.

This is the dry month when streams and springs are running and sometimes full altogether. If dependents had upon water-holes, see to it that the stock are not allowed to tramp in them, and on no account allow them to drink from foul pools.

Now is the time to select the young breeding stock.

See that all the hogs have plenty of fresh, clean water to drink, especially during the hot, dry days.

It costs about $10 to keep a breeding sow a year. If she gives you two litters, of eight pigs each year there should be a clear profit of at least $20 from her and you have your sow left in the bargain.

Stringy or rosy milk is caused very often by drinking stagnant water.

Keep the stable and the yards clean, so that flies and insects will have no breeding places.

Keep the milking stable darkened and screened, and spray the cows every day. It will pay in dollars and cents.

Try to arrange to give each horse on the farm a three weeks vacation on grass.

After a day's work, clean the work horses thoroughly, wash their legs from the knees down and rub dry.

Never dose a healthy horse. All he needs is good care and good food. The good care includes, of course, regular exercise. It is just as bad for a horse to be all the time taking medicine as it is for a man. Do not do it.

If the horse flags, and his legs become unsteady, unhook at once, put cold water on his head and on the back of his neck and rub with coarse cloth. If fear a druggist inject forty or more grains of quinine. Sponges his mouth with cold water.—From August Farm Journal.

The September Smart Set.

The first part of Gertrude Atherton's new novel "The Gorgeous Isle" is the initial feature of the September number of The Smart Set. In this the author surpasses her well-known work and shows her power of telling a love-story in language setting—the scene is a West Indian isle—and high lights is a pleasant contrast follows "The Courage of Kittis," by Lillian Bell, revealing how a society girl, full of grit and humor, cures and captures a difficult person as a father-in-law. "The Batter Right" by Johnson Morton is a very strong story with a new and a new motif.

Other well known writers are represented in this issue such as Mrs. Luthar Harris who, "Particular Parables," with its gentle satire on the Brahmin caste of Beacon street will be highly appreciated, and nowhere more so than in "The Batter Right," which contributes a delightful poem, "Awakening," which makes one feel at home in the cool forest, John Kendrick Bungs the well-known humorist, has also a short poem, "Only a Boy."

"Wallace and a Lovers," by Harry James Smith, deals with a first situation in a vein of rare humor and Christian Reid, a favorite writer, is well represented by "The Woman in the Case."

Other notable stories by Grace Lewis Henry, Marion Hill, Ethel Watts Mumford, Grant Vandewater, Harry Giles, Marguerite Tracy, Helen Frances Huntington, Elizabeth Daly and Katherine Metcalf Roof make this a brilliantly varied fiction number and the other poems by Clinton Scollard, Alana Updegraff, Archibald Sullivan, Edward Wilson, Mary Graham, Aloysius Oak, Elsa Barker and Beatrice Demarest Lloy, sustain the reputation as poets they have established.

The French story by Michel Plovins is one of powerful paths in that exquisite style which has gained for him the laurels of his country. Mrs. H. C. Alotger the September Smart set more than justifies its title.

A WOMAN'S TACT.

And the Way She Explained Her Diplomacy to Her Husband.

It being a holiday, the blundering man made calls with his wife. The first place they went the hostess said, "Is she invited?"

"Is she invited?" said the man's wife indignantly. "Which one did she finally accept?"

"The next place they were informed that Margaret was engaged, and again the man's wife beamed sympathetically and murmured, "Is she invited?"

"Which one did she accept?" At the third place was the news of Jessie's engagement that was broken to them.

"Is she invited?" said the man's wife indignantly. "Which one did she finally accept?"

Evangelist Not Mere Talk.

"That the message of evangelism is not talk but, theory, if you please, not a mental conception—it is a transformed life. What must be taught, and what this association is striving to teach is the translation of Christianity into daily life. I do not think it right to expect a higher standing of moral life in the man who occupies the pulpit than in any Christian, whatever his business may be. It is the duty of each to serve his generation as effectively as he can."

"The Young Men's Christian Association is accomplishing a tremendous work in carrying home this message, because it has so many points of contact. This in the physical work and in the educational it is not alone that they are developing a better physique or mental capacity to cope with the temptations, but these give a point of contact to deal with each man concerning the great realities."

GRANTING PATENTS.

Invention as Distinguished From Mere Mechanical Skill.

A patent cannot properly be granted protecting the product of mere mechanical skill as distinguished from invention. Difficulty is frequently experienced in distinguishing between the two, and the supreme test for determining whether a particular device is the result of mechanical skill is not whether an ordinary mechanic could make the device if he were suggested to him, but whether he would make it without suggestions save those which are prompted by his skill and knowledge of his art.

For example, if a man constructs out of iron a machine which had previously been made out of wood he does not thereby become an inventor in a legal sense, because everybody knows that any constructor can build a machine out of iron instead of wood. But suppose that gunpowder had just recently been discovered and that the man who invented it had applied for and obtained a patent upon it.

He might have claimed, "I combine saltpeter, sulphur and charcoal in a certain way and produce a startling result," and it would be no answer, if an action for infringement were brought, for the infringer to say that every chemist could make the powder after he had been shown how, for, if every chemist did not have the knowledge as well as the skill, the originating of the powder constituted invention.—Exchange.

Ewing to Speak.

President E. J. Snyder, of the county tobacco organization, has asked us to announce that Mr. Sam R. Ewing, of Daviess county, will speak on the tobacco situation at Paducah on Saturday afternoon August 22, and at Duke the same night. Mr. Ewing is vice-president of the Green River Tobacco Growers Association and is withal a plain, frank and forceful speaker. Mr. Snyder hopes the people, regardless of whether they belong to the order or not, will turn out and give him good audiences.—Hawesville Clarion.

A Bachelor and a Widow. "Bachelors," said the widow, "are the most sensitive people on earth. At any rate, the bachelors I know are. I dined with one not long ago. During the first part of the meal he seemed uneasy."

"If any of my friends see me," he said, "they will think I am dining with some other man's wife."

"Why I asked."

"He pointed to my wedding ring."

"Shall I take it off?" I asked.

"Would you mind?" he said.

"Not at all," I said and slipped off the ring."

"Since then when going anywhere with that bachelor or any other bachelor I have been his first embarrassment by taking off my wedding ring before we start. I find they appreciate my consideration for their feelings. Now, if that isn't sensitive, raised to the sixth power I'd like to know what it is."—New York Press.

From An Electrician's Note Book.

Although milking cows by electricity was at first ridiculed it has been demonstrated that it can be successfully and profitably accomplished.

The colors of lightning flashes vary from white to blue. Red is the commonest in forked lightning, with blue closely following, and orange and green less frequent. White is seen only in sheet lightning, red and yellow coming next. Hair usually comes in a thunder storm with blue lightning.

THE SENATORIAL POT

Will Soon Get Hot In The 10th.,

Senatorial District.

DICK OWEN STILL IN.

The Hawesville Clarion says of the Senatorial race:

"Interest is beginning to manifest itself in the race for the Igemacote seat for State Senator in this, the 10th. Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Meade, Breckinridge and Hancock. The election does not occur until November, 1909, but candidates and prospective candidates are making themselves known, and before the day set for the nominating convention or primary it is believed several aspiring gentlemen will be before the people."

Senator R. W. Owen, of Lewisport, is the present representative from the 10th district, and we understand that he is conditionally a candidate to succeed himself. He is serving his first term, and a candidate for re-election on his record. There has been a sort of tacit understanding in the district that the three counties should take time about possessing the office, which is a situation of affairs that has not been broken, but it is known that Senator Owen, having so recently been a citizen of that county from whence he moved to Hancock, will urge his further availability on the claim that he is a native of Breckinridge and virtually a citizen of that county, and that he is acceptable to the Democrats of Breckinridge county in their turn.

Whether or not Breckinridge will be content with Senator Owen we are unable to learn. It is but fair to state that advice received here on Monday last that the name of Owen is being undoubtedly have one or more candidates in the field for this nomination, and the most talked-of gentleman in that connection are Circuit Clerk Tom Moore, of Harlinsburg, and former Representative Sherman, of Irvington. This nomination is the effect that one or the other of these men will undoubtedly be a candidate. Whether or not Meade county will care to take a hand in the nominating fight has not been learned. Gus Richardson is probably eliminated from the race in the district, but it is not known whether he is holding a position under the State government, and it is known that Gus will be slow to let a certainty for a flock of wild birds in the bramble.

At any rate it looks to us as if there will be something doing in the 10th district within the next twelve months, and in all rumors of candidates developing into announcements we may expect a spirited contest over the nomination, which is not a lead pipe cinch on any election."

PECULIAR TREES.

They Yield Bread, Butter and Milk, Soap and Candies.

The breadfruit tree of Ceylon is very remarkable. Its fruit is baked and eaten as we eat bread and is equally good and nutritious. In Barbados, South America, is a tree which, by piercing the trunk, produces milk, which the inhabitants feed their children. In the interior of Africa is a tree which produces excellent butter. It resembles the American oak, and its fruit, from which the butter is prepared, is not unlike the olive. Park, the great traveler, declared that the tree which produces milk, which is land from cow's milk. At Sierra Leone is the cream fruit tree, the fruit of which is quite agreeable to taste.

At Table Bay, near the Cape of Good Hope, is a small tree the berries of which make excellent candles. It is called the American oak, and the vegetable tallow tree also grows in Sumatra, in Algeria and in China. In the island of Ceylon large quantities of oil and tallow are extracted from its fruit, which is gathered in November or December, when the tree has lost all its leaves. The bark of a tree in China produces a beautiful soap. Trees of this kind are also found in India, and grow in the north of Africa. They are amazingly prolific, and their fruit contains about 38 per cent of capolin.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Henry S. Seng, living two miles west of Elizabethtown, Ky., says: "I have suffered severely from kidney trouble for the last four or five years. At times the pains would be so severe as to keep me at night that I was hardly able to get around. If I sat in a chair for some time I was only able to straighten with great misery. Accompanying this backache was an annoying condition of the kidneys. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I procured a box. I started to take them strictly according to directions and they quickly cured the attack. During the last few years when I felt a recurrence I again resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills and the results were just as satisfactory as in the first instance. Mrs. Seng has also used them with good results and we both think there is nothing for kidney trouble like Doan's Kidney Pills."

LOWESTOFT CHINA.

Story of a Factory Whose Products Are Now Highly Prized.

At the end of the North parade, Lowestoft, near Warren House, a place of great interest to connoisseurs of china. It was here, in the eighteenth century, that a discovery of the clay was made which eventually led to Lowestoft's manufacturing of the china which is now so rare that it is almost priceless.

Initial experiments made by Hewlin Lawson, Esq., of Ganton Park, near Lowestoft, with some fine clay discovered accidentally on his estate resulted in complete success and ultimately led to the founding of a factory at Lowestoft in 1754 for the manufacture of the earthenware and porcelain "soft paste."

In 1775 a finely glazed and decorated "hard paste" was introduced, and its beauty and quality which had been a brilliant success for the proprietors. Contemporary evidence indisputably shows that from 1770 to 1901 the Lowestoft works were at the zenith of their fame. Owing however, to the enormous expenses and dilapidated machinery, the proprietors, Messrs. Cornwall and elsewhere after the original clay was exhausted, and the rapidly increasing competition of other makers, their prosperity waned, the works were closed, and the works were closed in 1893.—London Globe.

Clerical Clothes In New York. "The clerical clothes of a waim of New York tailors that astonished me," said a western clergyman. "I ordered a suit of clothes from a man who refused to work for me."

"What's the reason you folks are asking me along to another tailor?" I asked. "Do I look hard to fit? Are you afraid you won't get my money?"

"The tailor explained that neither of my guesses was correct. He declined to make my clothes simply because I am a clergyman and require a clerical suit. He let me down easily by stating further that he never undertook to make ecclesiastical garments, that very few of the lay tailors in New York do make them, and that he had not even enough of that kind of work to keep them constantly informed on the requirements of the different religious orders. A mistake would be embarrassing to the clergyman and the tailor, so they hand all such customers over to tailors who make a specialty of such work."—New York Sun.

The Flow of Rivers. The flow of rivers, as might be supposed, is the slowest at the bottom of the water and highest at the top. The average velocity of the entire stream is found, as a rule, at about six-tenths of the depth. The friction of the bottom which retards the movement of the deepest water is much greater, relatively to the whole volume of the stream, in a shallow river than in a deep one.

Womankind. "In my opinion," said Jones, "a woman's club to be successful should aim at something far removed from female suffrage."

"Do not agree with set lip," retorted Miss Strong, with set lip. "That alone should be its object."

"Exactly, but if it aims at something else it is likely to hit that."—Philadelphia Press.

WELCOME TO THE BARBECUE.

Put out your flags and your hunting, put on your best bib and tucker, and go to the barbecue tomorrow. Make the stranger within your gates feel that he is welcome. Give him the glad hand and a soul-stirring shake. Bid him welcome to the best town and the best barbecue on earth.

We don't want to take any back steps in this town. Voting the saloon in will surely do it.

After the barbecue then get on the trail to the County Fair. Do you know that it is going to be one of the best County Fairs in the State.

"Cowheel" is all right on the local option question, and will vote right next Saturday. It would not surprise us if this precinct, No. 1, gave 50 majority for local option.

Our old friend and countyman, Owen W. Sanders, writes that there will be a party of fifty former Breckenridge county people, now living in Evansville, who will attend the barbecue here tomorrow. Good!

There is no finer trait of character than the neighborly trait. It don't take money or lands or great wealth to be neighborly. It just takes thoughtfulness, that's all. It matters not how poor you are you can be thoughtful. It costs so little.

The saloon is one of the greatest sin-making devices on earth. Everybody knows this. Nine-tenths of all the crimes committed in this State are traced to whiskey and the saloon. Why, good citizens, do you want these hell holes in our town?

The News has an excellent article from Mrs. Curtis, who has been giving us some thoughts that burn on the temperance question, which we will take pleasure in giving to our readers next week. We regret we did not have it in hand for this issue.

The saloon is no benefit to any community. The only men who get anything out of it are the men who sell the vile stuff. There is nothing advanced either in the industrial or the moral sphere by strong drink except the liquor traffic itself. Vote it out.

Give the young men a square deal. How can they have it with an open saloon before them? Take the saloon out of their path by voting it out of our town. It is not only a nuisance for our boys and girls, but for our men and women. Nothing good in it.

Saloons don't draw trade only for themselves. Many a man has come to this town when the saloons were in full blast, with money in his pocket to buy the necessities of life for his family. He struck the saloon first, spent all his money, went home drunk and without the things that would have made his wife and children comfortable and happy. Who was benefited? Only the saloon-keeper.

Mrs. Curtis certainly knows us men from the cradle up. She tells the truth about us. Isn't it about time for all men to stop their meanness and get to thinking more about our wives, our daughters, our sons and our homes. Men, are we standing on the firing line with our wives? Get in the front next Saturday and vote with and for our wives, the peace of our homes and the best interests of our town.

The Henderson Route is doing the handsome thing by our County Fair this year in the way of rates and special service. You will always find the railroads ready to co-operate with its patrons to give them the very best accommodations, and do all in their power to help along any worthy enterprise. Mr. M. H. Beard, secretary of the fair, is especially proud of the arrangements he has made with the road and more than thankful to L. J. Irwin, the General Manager.

The highest religious, educational, scientific, insurance and commercial authorities of the age have unequivocally condemned and denounced the liquor traffic as the greatest and most terrible curse of modern civilization, and the Supreme Court of the United States, recognizing this judgment of the world, has officially declared (Dec. 5, 1857) that "We cannot ignore the fact, established by statistics accessible to everyone that the disorder, pauperism and crime prevalent in the country are in large measure directly traceable to this evil."

The late Col. Bob Ingersoll, in his great temperance oration, one of the greatest ever delivered, says of the liquor traffic: "I believe that from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm in the distillery until it empties into the hell of death, dishonor and crime, it demoralizes everybody that touches it, from its source to where it ends. I do not believe anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against that liquor crime. All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the wrecks on either bank of the stream of death; of the suicides, of the insanity; of the poverty, of the ignorance, of the destitution; of the little children tugging at the faded and weary breasts of weeping and despairing wives, asking for bread; of the talented men of genius it has wrecked, the men struggling with imaginary serpents, produced by this devilish thing; and when you think of the jails, the almshouses, of the asylums, of the prisons, of the scaffolds upon either bank, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against this stuff called alcohol."
